

A horse is an investment. Whether it is a member of the family, an athlete, or used as a sire or broodmare, it is important to make every effort to ensure its well being.

Horse owners should discuss appropriateness of treatment for their horse and associated costs with an AVSC authorized veterinarian.